THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Republican County Committee have called a Convention to be held in this city on Wednesday, the 28th of August, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various county offices. We think the Committee acted with marked discretion in calling the Convention at an early day. The earlier the nominees are in the field the better. It will give them ample time to make a thorough canvass of the county. The campaign this fall will be one of unusual importance, not only so far as regards the Congressional question and the Legislature, but county affairs as well. The Greenbackers, who seek the destruction of all the business interests of the country, will be in the field with a county ticket. They are after power and offices, and are organizing in every State with a view to carry out their purpose. In Rock, as in all other places, they will have to be met by solid men as Republican candidates, as well as by convincing argument on the stump. Candidates for the offices on the stump, to the Convention must bear these facts in mind. They must not lull in the chair of ease, because Rock is doing to go Republican, but be up and doing, and so far as each one is concerned, to see that the old-time Republican majority is secured.

THE ISSUES OF THE CAMPAIGN.

The issues of the campaign of 1878 must be set down as vital as any which have divided the parties since 1860. Then the Republican and the Democratic parties were dividing as to the question of human slavery. The Republican sentiment, throughout the country was overwhelmingly against it and likewise against any further extension of slavery. The Democrats were somewhat divided. One wing not only upheld slavery as being a divine institution, but demanded that slaveholders, if they saw fit, should take their chattels to the Territories; while the Douglas wing set aside the fence with a cooling indifference, not caring whether slavery was voted up or down. On the issues of that memorable campaign the Republican party was the greatest political victory of modern times. The blow it struck that year not only gave the world a Lincoln, but it gave the Nation a new birth. The issues of 1864 were significant. The Republican party was united and strong in the purpose to crush rebellion and maintain the Union, while the Democrats, in sympathy with Southern readers, resolved the war was a failure. The loyalty of the Republicans and their decided stand against rebellion and slavery, gave the party another political victory in 1864. In 1868 the Republican party supported the reconstruction acts of Congress, and denounced all forms of repudiation as a national crime; but the Democrats would not go so far, and Grant carried 25 of the 33 States which voted for President. The issues in the campaign of 1872 were very striking, but the result was remarkably significant, and in one respect peculiarly sad. The Democrats were totally demoralized on account of their black record and overwhelming defeat. The Republicans stood by the Government and their old principles, while the Democrats in their death struggle appealed to Greeley, one of the anti-slavery fathers, to save them, but the people spurned both the Democracy and Greeley, and out of 37 States, 31 cast their vote for Grant, thus crushing the Democracy with a defeat which in severity was never before equalled in any political contest in this country. In 1876, the Republicans made a strong platform, and advocated sound money while the Democrats gave their party deceptive resolutions and endeavored to stand on both sides of the financial question, and the result was defeat.

In 1878 the issues are as all-important as they were in 1860 or 1864. The old spirit is still in the South. It may not break out in rebellion, but it is as evil now as it was eighteen years ago, and the "solid South" is the cry for the purpose of uniting in the attempt to place Congress in the hands of Democrats. The very men who have taken an active part in crushing the freedom of the ballot in the Southern States, are the ones who are clamoring for a "solid South" and for control of the Government. The Republican party is called to defend the Government against the encroachment of such men, and to see that it is kept under the control of the loyal and the intelligent element of the country. A "solid South" has no other significance than that of an attempt to get possession of the offices and the treasury of the Government, and the Democrats of the North like the Democrats in 1860, are in full sympathy with the movement. The Republican party must not only meet this question at the polls, but it must also meet a question even worse

THE POTTER FRAUD.

Conjectures as to the Future The Witness to be Called at New York. Washington, Aug. 11.—The Potter Committee meets in New York on Monday, and the members of the MacVeagh Commission are expected to testify. Justice Harlan is here, and was subpoenaed. It is understood that he desires to relate the true story of his connection with Anderson. Governor Brown was here yesterday, and went to Philadelphia last night. He will go on the stand as will also Lawrence and MacVeagh. Butler, fresh from the declaration of his divorce from the Republican party, will hereafter represent the workmen on the committee. Burke, of Louisiana, will also be placed upon the stand for cross examination. James Kelly, who was messenger in the Executive Chamber of Louisiana when Kellogg was Governor, is also here. Some time ago he wrote Potter a letter in which he offered to tell who forged the signatures to the second set of electoral certificates. When the committee wanted him he was missing, and it is since learned that, under the guidance of Kennedy, an employee of the Senate, he put himself out of reach of a subpoena. But he has returned here, and now says that his letter to Potter was confidential, and as Potter violated confidence and gave it to the newspapers, he considers himself absolved from his promise to testify, and shall decline to tell anything. He will be taken to New York by the Sergeant-at-arms.

WALWORTH COUNTY.

Six Delegates for Littlejohn and Two for Williams. GENEVA LAKE, Wis., August 11.—The Republican Convention for the First Assembly District of Walworth County was held here yesterday, and Charles Palmer and the Hon. A. M. Aldrich were selected as delegates. They are favorable to Williams for Congress. Littlejohn has secured the balance of the delegates from this county, six.

RACINE COUNTY.

The Vote of the Delegation in the Republican Convention at Elkhorn. RACINE, Wis., Aug. 10.—Any calculations on the defeat of the Hon. Charles G. Williams' re-nomination for Congress at the Republican Convention at Elkhorn on Tuesday next, based upon the opposition to him on the part of the delegation from Racine county, are without foundation, as every one of the six delegates from this county have been elected. With the distinct understanding that they will vote for Williams. At the Senatorial District Convention a resolution was passed endorsing the address of the State Central Committee, and instructing the delegates to vote for Williams. The Republicans are wide awake, and are determined not only to give Williams an increased majority over the vote of two years ago, but to put such men in nomination for the Legislature as will secure several Republican members from districts represented by Democrats last winter.

WAUKESHA COUNTY.

The Delegates of the Tenth Senatorial District Instructed for Williams. The First Assembly District. WAUKESHA, Wis., Aug. 11.—The Republicans of the Tenth Senatorial District met in this village on yesterday afternoon, and selected Captain E. O. Stone and W. D. Bacon delegates to the Elkhorn Convention, which meets on the 13th instant. The Convention passed resolutions endorsing the address, resolutions, etc., of the State Central Committee. The delegation was instructed to vote for C. G. Williams, provided he endorsed the address of the State Committee. The First Assembly District of this county met immediately after the adjournment of the Senatorial Convention and elected E. W. Chapin and A. E. Gilbert to represent the district at Elkhorn. The same resolutions were passed, but the delegation was not instructed as to their vote.

CUT INTO SHAVINGS.

A Horrible Accident in a Chicago Planing Mill. CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—A horrible accident occurred on Saturday afternoon at 2:40 o'clock, which for ghastliness surpasses anything that has been recorded here, in the line of accidents, for some time. In the morning a boy aged 15 years, went to the planing mill of Wintermeyer & Dunspey, at Nos. 542 to 552 South Clark street, and applied for a day's work. He stated that he was familiar with the work about such establishments, and seeking very earnest, he was given a job without any questions being asked as to his name or his residence. He proved to be a very prompt and efficient boy, and went through the first half-day's work in good order. While he was engaged in carrying lumber from a planing machine to a place in the outside of the building, the belting of the machine and the piece of lumber he had upon his shoulder became entangled and the boy was pulled back upon the machine, his head coming in contact with the planer, that was revolving at lightning speed. Before any one could realize the predicament of the boy, and before he ever had a chance to call for help, his head was completely severed from his body, and rolled off the machine. Portions of his clothes became tangled in the planer, and in another second one of his arms was torn from the shoulder, and the ghastly and spurring member sent flying in another direction. The hand and a portion of the other arm were jerked to pieces, and the body suddenly twisted around until one of the legs and a foot became so mangled that there appeared to be a sickening to behold. By this time the machine had been stopped, and the fragments of the poor boy's body were collected. No one knew his name, his home, or anything about him.

A GOOD HAUL. Digging for the Burned Jewelry in the Ruins of the Appleton Building.

NEW YORK, August 11.—Digging for gold in this city has been quietly going on for two months among the ruins of the Bond street fire. The Appleton Building, burned March 6th of last year, contained gold and silver ware and jewelry valued at $1,000,000. The first gleanings of melted metal were easy, and large nuggets of gold and silver were extracted by the insurance companies. When those had gone, Peck and Rogers, old California miners, bought the privilege to overturn the mass, agreeing to pay 10 per cent of all the gains. They finished their work yesterday, and say they have realized at least $500,000 from their two months' washings.

QUIT WORK.

Some of the Machinists in the St. Paul Shops, Milwaukee.—An Interview with Manager Merrill. MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 11.—Yesterday noon some few machinists working in the Milwaukee and St. Paul shops at this place, feeling themselves aggrieved at a slight reduction in wages, quit work. They waited upon General Manager Merrill for the purpose of taking the matter over, but owing to his being unwell, he having just returned from the West, the conference was postponed until to-morrow, at which time it is believed an amicable solution will be reached, and the men return to work. There has been no disturbance, and none is anticipated.

GREENBACKS.

JUNEAU, Aug. 10.—The Greenback mass county convention held here today elected delegates to the Congressional Convention the 15th inst., was a complete fizzle, the whole number in attendance not being more than 20, nearly all of whom were old political friends, whom the people have long ago discarded. Five delegates from the county were elected.

ACCIDENT.

FT. ATKINSON, August 11.—Edward Beach, living a few miles south of this place, while threshing at J. McDonald's, had his arm thrust in the cylinder of the machine and taken off at the elbow. He is not expected to live.

THE MURPHY ORGAN.

Cor.—Do you read The Milwaukee Sentinel? Mr. C.—Sometimes. Cor.—That sheet calls such men machine politicians. Mr. C.—I don't know as I understand what is meant by a machine politician. If it means one who takes a lively interest in the management and administration of party affairs, attends caucuses and nominating conventions, and endeavors to give the utmost to secure the success of his party, then the more machine politicians the better. Every man ought to be one. In this country the people govern. They make the laws, and make and unmake public men. And every one knows that free institutions can only be administered through political organization; and every organization implies some executive head, because it is impossible for the people en masse to execute the details of any plan whatever.

Cor.—But The Sentinel claims that men are active in politics just to gain official positions; that your delegates to Congress and all your office-holders are working

MATT. CARPENTER.

His First Interview—What He Thinks of Hayes—His Candidate for the Presidency—United States Senatorship—An Interesting Dish of Wisconsin Politics. Matt. Carpenter has been interviewed for the first time, or at least his first interview has been published by the Chicago Times. It is interesting, and therefore we publish the greater portion of it. After some conversation about interviews and interviews, the following questions were answered: Correspondent.—What do you think of the Hayes administration? Mr. Carpenter.—There is no Hayes administration. The State department is administered by Everts, the Treasury by Sherman, the Interior by Schurz, and so each department is run by its chief; Mr. Hayes apparently has no influence with any of them. The administration lacks a head, lacks unity of purpose and action. Its indecision and timidity invite but are unable to repel aggression. This fact has led to a discussion in the press and among the people about the necessity for a stronger government. We have the strongest government on earth, as is proved by the fact that it suppresses a rebellion which would have overthrown any other government in the world. But the strongest government may be so weakly administered as to create riots, tumult and disorder, which would be impossible under a bold and vigorous exercise of the powers of the government. This administration lacks pluck, courage, energy, snap, and the qualities that inspire greatest confidence in the people.

He Got Even.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Last evening, a tall, raw boned, hungry-looking man, wearing the garb of a countryman, stepped up to the office of the Grand Hotel and, after "talking" with the register, on which he scrawled "R. Townsend, Newport, Ky.," he scooped Clerk Schuyler, and "reckoned he'd take a bite of supper," throwing down a dollar on the counter. The money was raked in by Schuyler, who said:

"You'll find the dining-room on the first floor. Just go up three flights of steps."

The stranger hesitated. He glanced at the place where the dollar was put; then he looked hard at the clerk, as if waiting for something.

"Right up stairs, sir," said the clerk.

"But ah—well, don't I get any change back?"

"Change?"

"Yes. That's a dollar bill that I give you."

"Of course. That's all right. That's the regular charge for supper."

"A dollar for supper? Well, hell! for that supper-room with a strange light in his eye and a look of firm determination in his face, sitting down to the table, he wrapped his cowhide boots around the legs of the table and sailed in. He scooped the grub in with both hands, and kept it up for full half an hour. These sitting around were soon attracted by the novel sight, and one matter-of-fact guest, thinking the man was eating on a wager, kept tally, and this was what he checked off on a bill of fare: Two cups of coffee, three plates plain bread, two plates fried mush, one plate corn beef, one plate chicken, one plate cold ham, two plates loin of real, two plates boiled beef, three plates boiled ham, four plates fresh fish, three plates fried eggs, two plates fresh potatoes, one plate baked potatoes.

The man who "scored" during his epicurean feast then took the record to Schuyler, who, after enjoying a hearty laugh at the expense of the hotel, figured it out, with restaurant prices as a basis, and found that his Newport friend had got away with just $4.05 worth.

The Governments of Paris and London.

Philadelphia Press.

Mr. Fulton, of the Baltimore American, now traveling in Europe, describes the Government of Paris as one of the most economical and honest. There is no scrambling for official position, because it does not pay. A police officer receives from $300 to $500 per annum. The head of the police, who is the highest salaried officer, receives but $2,400. There are twenty-two Mayors, each ward having one. The authority of the Prefect of the Seine extends over the whole city. To steal the public money, or defraud the taxpayer, is regarded in Paris as the most heinous offense a man can commit. The officers of the English municipalities are also distinguished for their probity. It is not possible to make a fortune out of local offices in London or Paris. There is a rigid system of checks and balances, and accountability, that of itself prevents misapplication of the public moneys. Comparatively few of the subordinate officers are elective. They are chosen for their superior qualifications and kept in office as long as they perform their duties properly. Their low salaries enable them barely to get a decent living, never to get rich. There are no official nabobs, as in American cities.

How Prairie Dogs Get Water.

It has always been a subject of curiosity and inquiry as to how and where prairie dogs, living on the prairie far away from any river or stream obtain their water.

Mr. Leach, formerly of Mercer county, Pennsylvania, and a frontiersman of experience, asserts that the dogs dig their own wells, each village having one with a concealed opening. It matters not how far down the water may be, the dogs will keep on digging till they reach it. He knows of one such well 200 feet deep, and having a circular staircase leading down to the water. Every time a dog wants to drink he descends the staircase, which, considering the distance, is no mean task. In digging for water the animals display as much energy as in resisting the efforts of settlers to expel them from the land of their progenitors.

How Many Fits are There?

The Lewiston (Maine) Journal says "We all know what fits are, and we all know that they are a nuisance. But just how great a nuisance a little painstaking will serve to show. At the house of Rev. Mr. Haskell, on Bartlett street, a patent fly trap has been in use a few weeks, and something like ten days ago the owner of the trap began to make an actual count of the prisoners, the count being made at about seven o'clock each morning. It is proper to say that there are screens in every window and screen doors. The trap was placed in the dining room, with the result as follows: Morning of July 15, 159 flies; 16th, 287; 17th, 35; 18th, 197; 19th, 512; 20th, 402; 21st, 673; 22d, 806; 23d, 480. The larger proportionate number from the 19th onward, is attributed to greater care in keeping the bar well supplied. On the morning of the 23d the trap was removed from the dining room to a shed having two doors, to which there were no screens. On the morning of the 24th, that is within 24 hours, there were found in the trap 3,231 flies. Total, 10 days, 7,001 flies."

BRIEFLETS.

—Cool nights.
—Moonlight promenades.
—The Knights of Honor meet to-night at their new hall.
—The park improvements will probably wait for another year.
—A gala week for Janesville. Picnics, circus, base-ball and cold-water parades.
—Charles Potter has so far recovered from his illness as to be able to ride out a little.
—Richard Wiggins has 8 acres of winter wheat which has yielded, on being threshed, 208½ bushels. Next.
—Burr Robbins will be at Red Oak, 10 a. m.; Malvern, 10th; Glenwood, 20th; Plattsmouth, Neb., 21st.
—William Wood, of Marano, one of Janesville's boys, is in the city on a brief rest from railroad business.
—The Temple of Honor dance at Apollo hall, on Thursday evening next, will be an elegant affair for a little money.
—The teacher's institute to be held at Milton, commencing August 19, promises to be of more than usual interest, and will doubtless be largely attended.
—The Cigarmakers and Barbers were put against each other in the diamond field this afternoon. All the talk about it being a close shave for the winner will end in smoke.
—Justice Prichard was kept busy to-day with a neighborhood quarrel, in which one woman was charged by another with having used obscene and abusive language. The trial of the case was as good as a show.
—The case of Jerome Shimeal charged with assaulting John P. Fonda, occupied the attention of Justice Balch all of Saturday last, and not being completed then, adjournment was taken until next Wednesday morning.
—A 12-year-old boy named Henry Connolly was to-day sent to the Industrial School at Waukesha. The complaint was made against him that he would not stay at home and insisted on sleeping in bars. He is also charged with having stolen $4 from his aunt.
—A farmer's team started from the slaughter house this morning and took a lively run down town, and were finally stopped near the postoffice. The wagon was loaded with sheep, who were scattered along the route with no reference to the comfort or convenience of the sheep.
—Miss Kate Kane is the name of a new lady lawyer at Janesville. Not that Kate is so very new, but the profession of the law is new to her. We suppose Kate will raise Kane with the business of those female lawyers there, and get cases plenty. Success to you, girl.—Pick's Sun.
—Charlie Hollister has opened a sewing machine agency in the store next to Conrad's on Main street. He will handle the Wheeler & Wilson machine, and will doubtless meet with the success which he merits. The machine is widely and favorably known, and the agency is in good hands.
—The Knights of Pythias and the Bower City Band have fixed upon August 22 as the date of their excursion to Milwaukee. The train will leave Janesville at 7:30 a. m., and returning will leave Milwaukee at 6:30 p. m. The tickets have been placed at the low price of $1.50 for the round trip.
—A private letter from Mrs. Griswold, of this city, states that the party of which both she and Miss Carle, also of this city, are members, have arrived safely at Heidelberg. They are delighted with the scenery thus far enjoyed by them, and are finding their European trip fulfilling their expectations in all respects.
—A telegraph from Council Bluffs announces the marriage at that place, of J. B. Pond, of the Redpath Lyceum Bureau, to Miss Isabel M. Stone, of Boston. Rev. H. W. Beecher, assisted by Judge Burke performed the ceremony. Major Pond is well known here, having been once a resident of Janesville, and being at one time employed in the Gazette office.
—Prof. J. W. Stearns, late of the Argentine Republic, and now principal of the Normal School of Whitewater, called at the Gazette office Saturday. The many friends of the Whitewater school will gladly welcome Prof. Stearns to this position, and it is to be hoped that he will succeed even beyond the expectations of his most enthusiastic admirers.
—There will be a shooting tournament at Beloit to-morrow and Wednesday. The prizes amount to three hundred dollars. The first day there will be class shoots, 15 single rises, and the second day there will be both single and double rises. The Prairie Club rules [are to govern] 1½ or 2 shot. The entrance fee is $5. All purses to fill or pro rata. Birds 12½ cents each. W. H. Calver and J. Crissman are the managers.

—The sprinkling cart team took another run this morning. They started from the Milwaukee street bridge, being inspired by a threshing machine, and ran at a fearful speed to the Corn Exchange. In turning there the wagon struck the curb, and smashed one axle and the new pole, which was only put in last Saturday. One of the horses tumbled down, and lay kicking, until the straps could be loosened, and matters righted generally. The driver was split out near the bridge, and had his face somewhat scratched. A steadier team will probably now be chosen, as it is decidedly unsafe to have such a frisky pair as that drag the lumbering cart through the crowded streets at such a gait, especially when they take a run every few days.

—The overland express between Brodhead and Janesville was wrecked about five miles west of this city late Saturday night. One carload of James Clark's boot flour which the express was taking out to a customer, was completely smashed. Cause, too much Janesville whisky imbibed by the engineer.

—The sermon of Rev. J. W. Sanderson, yesterday morning at the Presbyterian church, was one of rare interest. Rare, as compared with much of the teaching that comes to us from the pulpit, in that it was beautiful and grand enough to claim the attention of the aesthetic and the thoughtful. From childhood to manhood! How important the journey! How graphically did the speaker portray the transition. No man or woman past the meridian of life, with any just conception of life's duty could fail to be profited by such a sermon. Utterly oblivious to surroundings, one felt himself alone with the preacher as he traversed the way from childhood to manhood; and as we moved slowly to the aisle at the close of the services, we could scarcely realize that we had spent the hour with so many people. WANDERER.

—The weather. The thermometer at seven o'clock this morning stood at 71 degrees above, and at two o'clock at 82 degrees above. Clear. The indications are, for the upper lake region, upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys, warmer, clear, or partly cloudy weather, light, variable winds, mostly from east to south, stationary or falling barometer.

—GREAT LONDON SHOW. This popular entertainment, a combination of Sanger's Enlarged British Menagerie, Dockrill's Parisian Circus and Mardi-Gras Carnival, and the best features of the famous London show, will exhibit here August 28th.

—The New York Herald, always chary about notices of amusements, speaks as follows of the London Show in its issue of March 26th: "The Great London Show, which drew such large crowds to Gilmore's Garden last fall, and had Madame Dockrill among its chief attractions, opened last night, in the same place to a house so thronged, that many people looking for reserved seats, had to go away disappointed. The performance was a varied one, and between the very humorous clowns, the performing elephants, the hurricane hurdle act by W. Gorman, the bareback riding monkey, the juggling equestrian act by Miss Pauline Lee, the celebrated manage horse Ellington, ridden and driven by R. H. Dockrill, the burlesque manage horse by J. Kennel, the audience was kept in a continuous state of high string excitement and laughter. Madame Dockrill, whose excellence as a bareback rider, driving four horses with the utmost ease, and flying over hurdles four feet high with a daring that appears reckless in the extreme, needs no criticism, as her peculiar talent has simply to be seen to excite both wonder and admiration. James Robinson, the famous rider, made his first appearance after an absence of eight years, and was received in his unequalled equestrianism with really popular outbursts of applause. His riding like Madame Dockrill is beyond any comparative standard, and was done with a singular degree of ease and grace. Both he and Madame Dockrill were the recipients of numerous floral tokens of the appreciation of their admirers. The performing elephants and the collection of animals elaborate every conceivable attraction possible. It is a grand show."

—TEMPLE OF HONOR. The grand parade of the Temple of Honor will take place on Thursday p. m., at 3 o'clock. It is expected this will be one of the largest and finest processions ever formed in Rock county.

—In the evening at 7:30 o'clock a mass meeting of delegates and Templars will be held at Lupton's Hall, to which all friends of the order are invited. This meeting will be addressed by the Hon. J. B. Casaday and by prominent members of the Order from abroad.

—At 9 o'clock in the evening, a social dance will be given at Apollo Hall. It is conceded that these Temple dances are always of the most enjoyable kind. This will not be an exception. Prof. Harry Anderson furnishes the music. Tickets one dollar.

—By ORDER OF THE COMMITTEE. CITY NOTICES. Pinta Talk.

—A managing mother said to her daughter "Emma, before you go down stairs to see Lord Ormsby, remember to use your Sizz-dont. It makes you talk sweet. It's about time you understood what he means." She used it, and is now Lady Ormsby of Castle Ormsby, in England.

—They don't need Spalding's glue in that castle. Everything is unbroken there.

—Beyond the Reach of Human Skill. Is the power to restore the hair to bald heads when the bulbs at the roots are destroyed by age or disease; but there are doubtless many persons becoming bald, who care by careful attention might be restored to their original luxuriance and might be restored to their original luxuriance and might be restored to their original luxuriance.

—A group of five royal Bengal tigers. Trained and performed by the English expert, ALFRED STILL, positively three times as many as are owned by any other show, and the only performing wild beasts of their kind in America.

—A den of six tawny panthers, from the jungles of Mexico, together with the most gigantic wild beast show. Ever congregated under acres of water-proof pavilions; the finest sets of spring board leaps, best feats of tumbling, the most and elegantly dressed people, and the largest company of circus performers ever seen in any one establishment on earth.

—Four Great Clowns, John Patterson, the Irish Wit and Vocalist, from county Clare; three unsurpassable French Kibouli Brothers, Kestrel, and that the London alone has them.

—Esau the Hairy Girl. A girl girl covered with long, glossy hair, from head to foot. CAPT. CRAPO and WIFE, with their tiny craft, "New Bedford," which made the famous and successful trip across the Atlantic last summer.

—Lioness and three nursing babies. These infant lions were born in Gilmore's Garden, last March, and are so amiable that the ladies and children handle them.

—Any other company advertising a Mardi-Gras Carnival, not only cannot produce it, but stole the idea from the London. As a fitting contribution to the pleasure of all lovers of grand spectacles, the London offers the most gorgeous free Street Procession, which occurs daily, between 9 and 10 A. M., including over 300 people, 300 horses, and 50 Lilliputian ponies. The magnificent Tableau cars, the London White and fancy chariots, brilliant costumes and gold-mounted harness, the ever popular Mardi-Gras Carnival, the amusing Mechanical Ants, 1,000 flags, banners and waving plumes, and an endless catalogue of sensational sights, worth coming hundred of miles to witness, the whole grand display commencing and ENRICHED with TWO FULL MILITARY BANDS OF MUSIC. Remember the London alone performs all it advertises, and that its record is brighter and clearer than that of any contemporary. No traveling establishment ever received such enlogistic press notices and unperformed and heavy praise from the liberal and fair-minded people. The price will remain 50 Cents for Adults and 25 Cents for Children under 9 years of age. Reserved Seats, 25 Cents extra. Two performances daily, at 2 and 7:30 p. m. Doors open one hour previous. To avoid the crowds on grounds, purchase tickets at a slight advance the day of the exhibition, at King's Bookstore.

Excursion Trains will Run on all Roads at Greatly Reduced Rates, at Such Hours as will Accommodate Everybody.

Janesville, Wednesday, AUGUST 28th.

A BIG BLAZE.

The Mills of the Rock River Paper Company Burned This Afternoon.

The Loss Covered by Insurance.

News reached this city this afternoon, over the wires, that the mills of the Rock River Paper Company on the west side of Beloit caught fire about noon to-day, and in spite of all exertions were almost completely destroyed. Much of the machinery was saved. The loss will probably reach $15,000, at least. The insurance amounts to $22,000. The city was of course thrown into great excitement, and for a time it seemed that the blaze would extend further, but it was gotten under control. The loss is a serious one, but the mills will probably be rebuilt at as early a date as possible.

A BRUTAL ASSAULT.

Yesterday some ruffianly boys entered Mr. Search's orchard, near this city, and enthusiastically entered upon a general pillage. Mr. Search, of course, objected, and going out into the orchard tried to drive them out. They were about twenty in number, and refused to go, trusting apparently in their numerical strength, and in the fact that Mr. Search was not only advanced in years, but also enfeebled in health. Besides using abusive language they commenced throwing stones, with which they had provided themselves before coming there. One large stone struck him in the back of the head knocking him down, and even then the boys were not satisfied, but one of them taking a large stone hurled it at the prostrate man, striking him on the cheek-bone, and bruising and cutting the flesh down to his brain. They then became frightened at what they had done, and took to their heels. Mr. Search at once sent to the city for medical help, and is now feeling some confusion in his head, and though getting along comfortably, and it is hoped that the injuries will not prove serious. Some of the boys were recognized by Mr. Search, and will probably be arrested. One week ago the boys also made a raid upon the same orchard. If the guilty ones could be brought to justice, a lesson should be taught these youthful law-breakers, which they can not forget.

DIAMOND DUST.

Next Wednesday and next Friday there will be a centering of interest at the Mutual Base Ball Park. Milwaukee is to send hither as strong an amateur nine as its city can produce, and the Mutuals of this city will do their best to beat them, the winner to hold the State Championship against all comers. Every arrangement is being completed to make both games as interesting as possible, and those who attend will get much more than their money's worth. Buses will run to the grounds every fifteen minutes, a time paying the fare. Covered, shady, seats will be given the spectators without extra charge. The Mutuals are a strong club as all know well, and Milwaukee will send out a worthy representation so that the games cannot fail to be of great interest.

Those persons who are inclined to think that the present Mutual nine does not amount to much, simply because we had a professional club last year, had better attend one of the games this week and find out how badly they are mistaken. Whatever advantage last year's nine may have possessed are more than offset by the superior batting and base running of the present club. In fact, Ed. Gault, who ought to know, says they are the best lot of base runners in the country. All the boys want is a little practice against good nines. If they win this week there will be no question about their being the best club in the State. There are clubs in Chicago much better than the Fairbanks of last year, but they will not leave the city unless expenses are guaranteed, and the Mutuals do not care to take these chances until they are assured of good support. Rockford has games right along which are drawing good crowds, the Peorias taking away over $200 for their share for three games. Turn out this week and encourage home talent as it is not only cheaper but better.

At a meeting of the League at Providence on Saturday it was decided not to pay as high salaries for players as have heretofore ruled, and an aggregate for nine players was agreed on between the managers. The amount is not given.

The games this week are as follows: On Monday, Thursday and Saturday, Chicago will play at Providence, Indianapolis at Beloit, and Milwaukee at Cincinnati. In addition to this, Chicago has an overdue game which will probably be played with Providence, and Cincinnati two with Milwaukee, which will be played either at Milwaukee or Cincinnati, probably at the latter place.

The Boston defeated the Chicago, Saturday, by 2 to 1, there being eleven innings played.

The Indianapolis nine defeated the Providence nine, Saturday, 6 to 5.

The Lowell defeated the Manchester, Saturday, 3 to 2.

The Boston now take the lead in the League championship struggle, the following being the number of games won thus far by each club: Boston 31, Chicago 26, Cincinnati 24, Providence 21, Indianapolis 17, Milwaukee 9.

The Cincinnati defeated the Milwaukee, Saturday, by 9 to 0, only six innings being played.

WRECKED.

The overland express between Brodhead and Janesville was wrecked about five miles west of this city late Saturday night. One carload of James Clark's boot flour which the express was taking out to a customer, was completely smashed. Cause, too much Janesville whisky imbibed by the engineer.

"WHEN I WAS A CHILD."

The sermon of Rev. J. W. Sanderson, yesterday morning at the Presbyterian church, was one of rare interest. Rare, as compared with much of the teaching that comes to us from the pulpit, in that it was beautiful and grand enough to claim the attention of the aesthetic and the thoughtful. From childhood to manhood! How important the journey! How graphically did the speaker portray the transition. No man or woman past the meridian of life, with any just conception of life's duty could fail to be profited by such a sermon. Utterly oblivious to surroundings, one felt himself alone with the preacher as he traversed the way from childhood to manhood; and as we moved slowly to the aisle at the close of the services, we could scarcely realize that we had spent the hour with so many people. WANDERER.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at seven o'clock this morning stood at 71 degrees above, and at two o'clock at 82 degrees above. Clear. The indications are, for the upper lake region, upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys, warmer, clear, or partly cloudy weather, light, variable winds, mostly from east to south, stationary or falling barometer.

GREAT LONDON SHOW.

This popular entertainment, a combination of Sanger's Enlarged British Menagerie, Dockrill's Parisian Circus and Mardi-Gras Carnival, and the best features of the famous London show, will exhibit here August 28th.

The New York Herald, always chary about notices of amusements, speaks as follows of the London Show in its issue of March 26th:

"The Great London Show, which drew such large crowds to Gilmore's Garden last fall, and had Madame Dockrill among its chief attractions, opened last night, in the same place to a house so thronged, that many people looking for reserved seats, had to go away disappointed. The performance was a varied one, and between the very humorous clowns, the performing elephants, the hurricane hurdle act by W. Gorman, the bareback riding monkey, the juggling equestrian act by Miss Pauline Lee, the celebrated manage horse Ellington, ridden and driven by R. H. Dockrill, the burlesque manage horse by J. Kennel, the audience was kept in a continuous state of high string excitement and laughter. Madame Dockrill, whose excellence as a bareback rider, driving four horses with the utmost ease, and flying over hurdles four feet high with a daring that appears reckless in the extreme, needs no criticism, as her peculiar talent has simply to be seen to excite both wonder and admiration. James Robinson, the famous rider, made his first appearance after an absence of eight years, and was received in his unequalled equestrianism with really popular outbursts of applause. His riding like Madame Dockrill is beyond any comparative standard, and was done with a singular degree of ease and grace. Both he and Madame Dockrill were the recipients of numerous floral tokens of the appreciation of their admirers. The performing elephants and the collection of animals elaborate every conceivable attraction possible. It is a grand show."

TEMPLE OF HONOR.

The grand parade of the Temple of Honor will take place on Thursday p. m., at 3 o'clock. It is expected this will be one of the largest and finest processions ever formed in Rock county.

In the evening at 7:30 o'clock a mass meeting of delegates and Templars will be held at Lupton's Hall, to which all friends of the order are invited. This meeting will be addressed by the Hon. J. B. Casaday and by prominent members of the Order from abroad.

At 9 o'clock in the evening, a social dance will be given at Apollo Hall. It is conceded that these Temple dances are always of the most enjoyable kind. This will not be an exception. Prof. Harry Anderson furnishes the music. Tickets one dollar.

By ORDER OF THE COMMITTEE.

They don't need Spalding's glue in that castle. Everything is unbroken there.

Beyond the Reach of Human Skill. Is the power to restore the hair to bald heads when the bulbs at the roots are destroyed by age or disease; but there are doubtless many persons becoming bald, who care by careful attention might be restored to their original luxuriance and might be restored to their original luxuriance and might be restored to their original luxuriance.
